DESCRIPTION AND PURPOSE OF CHANGE:

In recent months, customers have expressed concerns regarding the use of USB flash drives because they violate cybersecurity policies. In response to customer feedback, AlazarTech will cease including USB flash drives with product shipments at the end of 2024.

These flash drives include Alazar Package Manager (APM), drivers, and utilities for Windows. APM is available for download at <https://www.alazartech.com/apm> and it automatically fetches the latest Windows drivers and utilities from AlazarTech's servers.

Linux resources are not affected by this change; they were never included on these flash drives, and they continue to be available on each product's web page.

DETAIL OF CHANGE:

USB flash drive will no longer be included with product shipments (typically in the ESD clamshell packaging). Note: flash drives are currently not provided for higher volume OEM shipments.

RELIABILITY/QUALIFICATION SUMMARY:

Product approval is according to the specification and is internally released by the Product Management Department.
